

Ready
to learn

School is like a big family made up of students and teachers who spend a lot of time together. Each classroom is prepared for learning endless different things: computer science, gym, art... Some schools even have a garden!

One of the best things about the first day is meeting your friends again, isn't it?

A new course starts

Each school year represents a level of learning. As you grow, they'll teach you very interesting new things. Which course will you take?

Before beginning the class, the teacher usually checks the register to make sure that all the pupils are there.

Remaining in silence while the teacher gives a lesson,
or when a classmate is speaking aloud is very important, so that all the pupils can listen and concentrate. If a pupil wants to ask a question... he has to raise his hand!

Listening is important

So if you forget remaining in silence,
your teacher will remind you...
