

Marcie Alters has not always been the nicest kid in town. In fact, Marcie is known as "Mean Marcie." Not only does Marcie think it's funny to play nasty jokes on all of the other kids at school, including her brother, Sebastian, but she especially likes to tease the neighbor's dog.

It's so funny to be mean!

Marcie realized that this was the first time in a very long time that she didn't hear anybody call her "Mean Marcie." Marcie learned that a simple act of kindness, whether it was helping somebody pick up their books or offering to go last at the drinking fountain, felt good.

Kindness is the simple things you do for others!

Marcie even found other ways to be nice to Sebastian. Whether it was giving Sebastian her ice-cream cone when his fell to the ground or camping out with him in the backyard when his friend couldn't come, Marcie learned that she enjoyed spending time with Sebastian. They actually had fun together.

Kindness is giving others a chance!
