

Parties are a lot of fun!

Wow! Quite a few children are attending Mark's party. Parties are so much fun! When we're invited to somebody's house and there are lots of other kids there, we have to be careful with their belongings. If we all behave, we can enjoy ourselves thoroughly.

Inviting people

Today is Mark's birthday, and he has invited his friends over. He asked all of his classmates to attend, because he doesn't want any of them to feel left out.

Mark is a little nervous since it's almost time for the party, and he would like everything to go really well.

Getting ready

Laura has very long hair, but she doesn't like to have it brushed or braided. Since she is going to Mark's party, she has promised her friend Lee to have her hair brushed and braided to look pretty.
