

Did you know that the rubbish generated by your household during a whole year would fill up a truck? Just imagine how much waste a city produces!

Can you imagine what would happen if it were not collected? It would accumulate in the streets in really high piles and rats would run around everywhere. Yuck! It would be really dirty, wouldn't it? What a stink! And how many problems?

As you can see, it is very easy to generate waste at home on a daily basis, but it is not so easy to get rid of it. For this reason, it is very important to reduce the waste.

We can do this in several ways. To start with, we don't need to buy so many unnecessary things. A sweater you've seen in a shop window that you liked a lot, a ball just like the one your friend Marcos has... Whims don't help to reduce waste!

People should also reduce, reuse and recycle everything they can, in order to generate as little waste as possible, because, as you have seen, it is very difficult to make it disappear. We must try not to produce any more. If everybody does their bit, we can do it together. I already do it and so can you!
