

Little Bear tumbled out of bed, he was so excited.
He had had the most wonderful dream. He and Daddy Bear had climbed a great big hill together... fished in a great big river. Caught a great big fish...
and eaten a great big lunch.
It was a wonderful dream and Little Bear
needed to share.

Little Bear followed
hiding behind trees
and bushes, he didn't want to be seen.
He needed to see what
was more important
than him.
Why Daddy Bear
was never there?

“Better get back” Daddy encouraged “but why so sad Little Bear?”

“Today was great” replied Little Bear “but tomorrow you will be back to being a bear who is never there”. Now it was Daddy Bear who looked sad, he sat down on the cool grass. “Come and join me Little Bear” he said.
