

Illustrating the writing

Nicolai spends all day with his nose inside a book. He knows a lot of things by heart and only raises his eyes from the books to tell stories to his friends, his dad, his little sister and Momo the puppy.

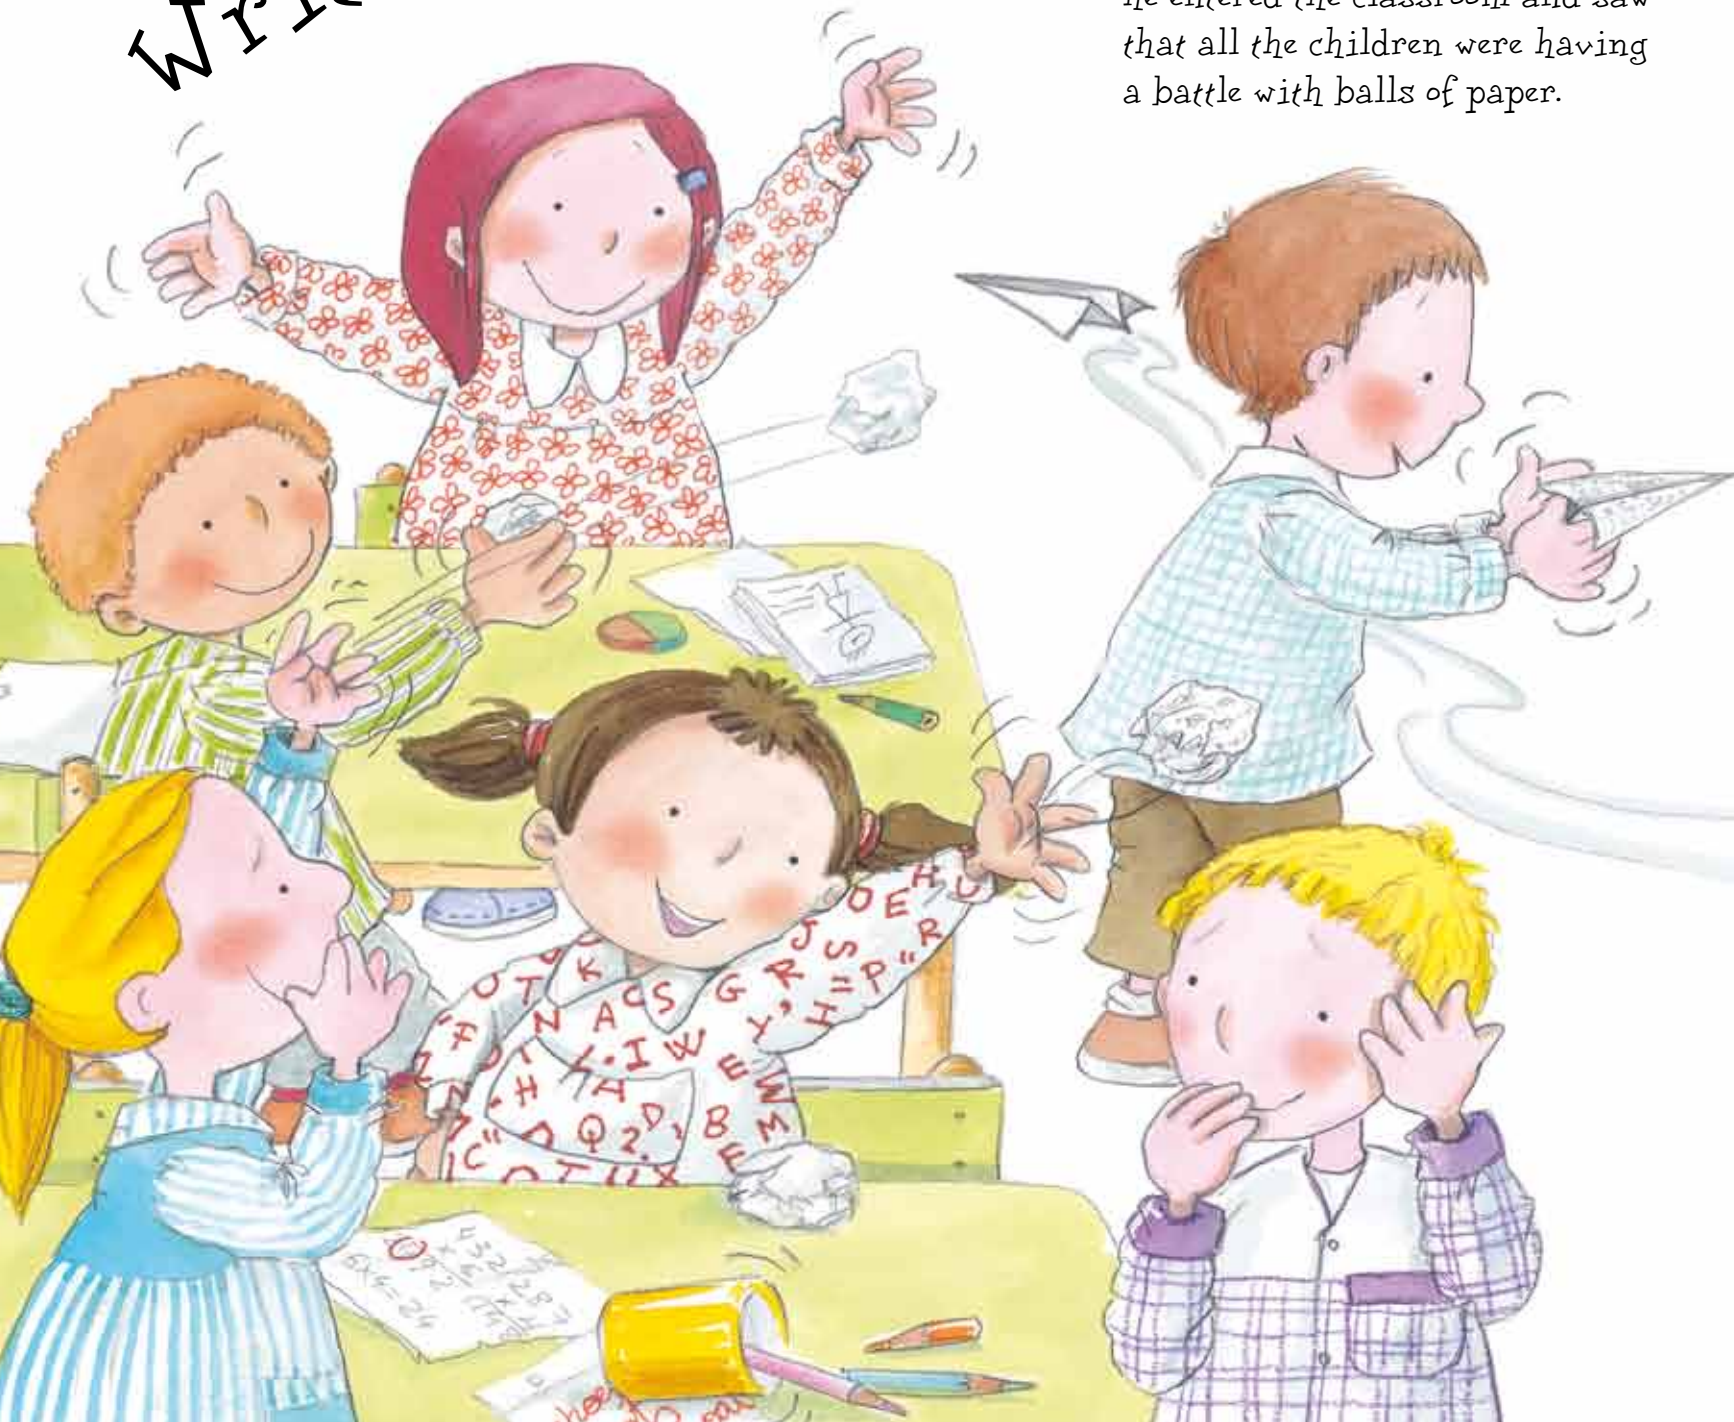

But Momo the puppy always looks at him with her head cocked and doesn't seem to understand anything...

Writing to a friend

Yes, Nicolai has decided to explain why the science teacher went as red as a tomato when he entered the classroom and saw that all the children were having a battle with balls of paper.

Nicolai smiles just at the thought of it, but he must concentrate on his work. It is night outside, the moon is shining brightly and the sky is full of stars.

A mixture of stories

Nicolai is delighted with the success he has at school, so he has decided to write a fantasy story, a story about something that cannot happen. Nicolai has read loads of fantasy stories, so he sets down to write and mixes together things he has read in different stories.

He ends up with a story of a fairy who trains an elephant to fly with her and they travel around the world in eighty days together.

